The quantity of land is estimated at about 583 3-4 acres. There is on it a two story framed Dwelling House not in very good repair, and some outhouses. From a Philadelphia paper.

Seisure at Sierra Leone.

Mr. Editor—You will please insert the following abstract of a letter to a gentleman in this town dated.

Sierra Leone, July 24, 1816.

"For your information I beg leave to state the proceedings here against several vessels of the United States, which appear to me to have been lawfully trading on this coast

"On the 18th of May two vessels were observed off the Cape, and on the 19th the Governor dispatched the Collector of the Custom with two armed boats, who seized, and brought them both into port, the one proved to be the schooner Hiram of Newport, which was under way when seized, distant from the Cape about three leagues, endeavouring to get round the shoals at St. Ann, but calms and contrary winds had prevented her for two or three days. The other proved to be the brig Francis, of New York, which was at anchor when seized, waiting for an anchor, the captain of her purchased from a merchant here, without which he could not safely proceed to the leeward.—The depositions of the principal officers of both vessels being taken, it was judged expedient to release the Francis, although, in my opinion, both were guilty of an equal offence, if any. The Hiram being now detained for adjudication, the next and most difficult point was to find evidence sufficient to condemn her; for which purpose people were sent along the coast as far as Bana Islands, where the vessel had previously been trading; a distance upwards of 30 miles, and without a doubt beyond the jurisdiction of this court, consequently they had no authority whatever to enquire into any transactions the captain might have had there;—they however took the deposition of several negroes to whom the captain had given a few heads of tobacco, for a little wood and water.—With the above evidences, and her transactions at Goree, it was concluded they had sufficient grounds to effect the desired purposes. The trial came on the 27th June, when she was condemned (few vessels are tried in this court and released) as good and lawful confiscations and forfeiture to his Majesty.

"At the trial it was stated by the learned judge, that the vessel's transactions at the Island of Goree were alone quite sufficient to condemn her, it being a dependency of this colony, and that all foreign vessels anchoring there were liable and subject to condemnation. This is something new, as it never was before considered, and in fact it is the opinion of most people here, that it is not a dependency of this colony, being merely a settlement taken from the French, and ceded to them by the last treaty. But allowing it were a dependency, the captain had permission from the Governor for the business he did there, which was merely the selling and landing of a few provisions to himself, for the use of his Majesty's troops stationed there and in the river Gambia: consequently one would imagine he was perfectly safe—I am however very sorry to find it otherwise.

"The next vessel that arrived here was the ship General Lincoln, capt. Swan from Boston, who cleared out for Sierra Leone, a very considerable part of her cargo being for the Governor, which was verbally contracted for when Mr Swan was here about six months ago, but no sooner was the vessel at anchor than to the great astonishment of capt. Swan, she was seized for so doing: however, in consequence of the contract, it was considered unjust to condemn her, she was therefore, after a few days detention, set at liberty, with special orders to the captain to get her under weigh and depart from the colony immediately. I conclude by giving you my most candid advice, that should you be inclined to fit out a vessel for this coast, do not upon any account whatever allow her to come even in sight of Sierra Leone."

From late London Papers.

Thomas Paine.—The following is an extract of a letter received by Mr. William Dilwyn, of Walthamstow, Essex, from his daughter in America. The writer is of the most unquestionable respectability, and appears recently to have received the information stated in it from a person equally entitled to credit. The latter resided in a family in the near neighborhood of the celebrated Thomas Paine who resided at Greenwich, near New York, and during his last illness had contributed to his comfort, by occasionally preparing and sending him food and refreshments more adapted to his situation than he easily enjoyed. These, the informant chose to be the bearer of to his bedside, although his personal circumstances were so deplorable that the air of his chamber could scarcely be endured. In performing this humane office, she had the opportunities of conversation with him, which authorise the writer's belief, that he exhibited another proof of Dr. Young's assertion, that 'Men may live fools but fool they cannot die.' The letter proceeds to say, that she found him frequently writing: and believed, from what she saw and heard, that, when his pain permitted, he was almost always so engaged, or in prayer, in the attitude of which she more than once saw him when he thought himself alone. One day he enquired if she had ever read the 'Age of Reason,' and on being answered in the affirmative, desired to know her opinion on that book. She replied she was but a child when she read it, and probably he would not like to know what she thought of it. Upon which he said if old enough to read, she was capable of forming some opinion, and from her he expected a candid statement of what that opinion had been. She then said she thought it the most dangerous book she had ever seen; that the more she read the more she wished to read, & the more she found her mind estranged from all that is good, and that from a conviction of its evil tendency, she had burnt it, without knowing to whom it belonged.—Paine replied to this, that he wished all who had read it was as wise as she; and added, "If the ever the Devil had an agent upon earth, I have been one." At another time, when she was in the chamber, and the master of her family was sitting by his beside, one of Pain's former companion's came in; but seeing them with him, hastily went out drawing the door after him with violence, and saying, "Mr. Paine, you have lived like a man: I hope you will die like one." Upon which Paine, turning to his principal visitor, said, "You see what miserable comforters I have" An unhappy female, who had accompanied him from France, lamented her sade fate, observing, "For this man I have given up my family and friends, my property and religion: judge them of my distress when he tells me that the principles he has taught me will not bear me out!"

LONDON, August 19.

New British Money.—The new silver coinage is going on with astonishing rapidity—nearly 150,000 pieces are coined daily, and in a week that quantity, immense as it is, will be doubled. We have seen a specimen of this coin—the head resembles that on the last issued shilling pieces, and is in our opinion a little clumsy. The reverse, is, however, beautiful; it has the arms of Great Britain very richly emblazoned, in the manner of the fine Italian silver pieces under Bonaparte.

The inscriptions are handsome, but the letters are in a very low relief—the milling round the edge is not only new, but surpassing any thing of the kind we remember to have seen—the edge is raised so as to protect the effigies, arms, and exergue, from being speedily worn plain; and the milling is applied in deep perpendicular indents upon the circumference. In this respect, the money in preparation is far superior to the early coinage of his majesty's reign, not only in utility, but in richness of appearance. A morning paper says, that the new twenty shilling pieces are to be called sovereigns, and that there are to be some double sovereigns: there will of course be half sovereigns [or republicans] and crowns and half crowns, so that our circulation will be formed almost entirely on the admirable system of decimal parts.—The new coinage is expected to be issued in January, and simultaneously all over the island; in order to accomplish which, large deposits will be previously made in every considerable town; and when all is complete, a royal proclamation will be issued.

Between 60 and 70 millions of specie, chiefly shillings and sixpences, will be given at once to the public, and the larger money will thereafter be circulated progressively as the labors of the mint enable the issues to be made.

From the Boston Centinel.

From South America.—A letter has been received in town, from a gentleman in South America, of which the following are extracts;

"Buenos Ayres, July 10.—The political state of the country is such, that from the first politician to the last, an opinion cannot be given by them Liberty and independence, unsupported by Virtue, Patriotism and Energy, are nothing; the pretensions to the former are now to the last spark extinguished, and the magistrates have ever been destitute of the latter.

"At present heavy armies are rapidly approaching from the westward, which will be difficult to check, if possible.

"The Portuguese are coming, to a certainty, with a very strong force by sea and land; as well as Gen. Artigas, and all the towns in this province, on the other side of the river, against this capital, which has to depend entirely upon its militia, of inferior numbers. We shall have great changes here by October—it we dont entirely fall under the old yoke. The distresses of the country will be unlimited.

"Notwithstanding all this, there are desperate people here, who may be inclined still to hold out, by driving off the supplies, to annoy the enemy—in which case a century must elapse, attended withall the St. Domingo horrors, before the country will be good to any one."

Extract of a letter from Buenos Ayres, dated July 14.

We have pretty correct information that the Portuguese expedition, of 10,000 troops has arrived in this river."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman near Queenstown, dated Oct. 8, 1816.

"I have the inexpressible happiness to make known to you the result of the elections in Talbot and Caroline in favor of our worthy and deserving candidate to congress, col. Potter. He succeeded in Talbot by a majority of 171 votes; in Caroline, by a majority of 103 votes over his opponent. Queen Anne gave Culbreth 325 majority which elects him by an average majority in the whole district of 51. Wright will drew his pretensions last week, or Colonel Potter would have been elected all hollow. Culbreth has, however, but little to boast of. Indeed this election is equivalent to a victory; the democratic majority in this county has generally been upwards of 500, which plainly shews, that the people are becoming heartily sick of their tyrants. The contemptible faction that dictated to this country, is nearly crushed by its own impotence.

The people will no longer be cajoled by the pitiful subterfuges of their demagogues who are only influenced by their interest.

THOUGHTS ON ELECTION.

As the storm of political contest has passed over Maryland, we may now do as our neighbours have done, fold our arms, and see how it rages elsewhere.—Many are prone to imagine, that the zeal displayed by party combatants, is a decided evidence of the fierce and intolerant spirit which will be shewn by either party, when the victory is gained: we hope and trust, that this opinion is erroneous. It is perfectly natural for men, who are deeply and seriously impressed with a conviction, that their cause is a just one, to display a zeal in proportion to that conviction. They would not do their duty either to their country, or to themselves if they did not so exert themselves. On great and important occasions, nothing is so contemptible as coldness and indifference. We utter the strongest satire on ourselves, when we do not, by actions, testify the same zeal that we do by our words. We acknowledge that we are not champions worthy of the cause—that we are disposed calmly to surrender up great and important interests, because they will cost us a struggle. With bright examples before us, of those who have poured forth their blood in the field of battle, or resigned their personal ease & tranquility in the councils of the nation, to secure some great and permanent blessings to the country, we consent to surrender up such important interests, because their accomplishment will occasion us some hours of honorable fatigue. What would be the fate of any country, if her destinies were guided by such feather-bed patriots? Inevitable ruin and degradation would follow—bold, desperate, and adventurous men, to whom any change would be propitious, would at any and at all times, disturb the repose of social life, and the government would be given up as a victim to its own indolence and lethargy. It is a paradox in terms, that a great and glorious cause is not worth a contention.—The Federalists of Maryland have it now in their power to prove by their actions, that the assertions of their political opponents are calumnies and falsehoods. They have again and again predicted, that the federal party if successful would rule Maryland with a rod of iron—that neither law or justice would stand in the way of their insatiable ambition. But we trust that the federal party will shew by their conduct, that these words were only worthy of the lips which have uttered them: we trust that they will neither be deterred by such slanders, from making whatever laws may be deemed necessary for the welfare and security of the State, or hurried into measures which their better judgments condemn, if they are taxed with timidity by their political opponents. They have a higher tribunal, before which they must answer for their conduct while in office, the tribunal of their own consciences. Disregarding alike the slanders or the applauses of their enemies, we trust they will observe a dignified firmness in legislation, and act from the impulse of their own unbiassed opinions, on whatever political question may be presented to their view. This alone is worthy to be denominated patriotism and sound policy.

We know that it is the opinion of some deep moralist, that the whole art and mystery of politics, consists in hating with all our might, the party opposed to our own, and that not only with political, but with personal hatred. It is abundantly sufficient for such men to be informed whom they must hate, and they have been learned all the lessons in politics which they are capable of being taught. We should see as much acrimony in the different religious sects, as we now do in our political sects, if the contest was decided in the same way, and if the decision was productive of the same consequences. We will suppose for example, that it depended on the vote of a majority, what religious sect should rule Maryland, whether that majority consisted of Quakers, Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists, or Episcolians, suppose that our religious faith was made the standard of our political elevation, and that this question was finally decided by a majority: we should then hear no more of democrats, or federalist. But as we would be a bad christian who should say, that all his zeal in the service of his Creater was exhausted in his hatred of those who did not adopt his particular faith, so he is a politician equally as bad, who thinks that his zeal in the service of his country has no other object than hatred to his political opponents.

Democratic Oration.—John H. Todd, Esq. on the 4th of July last, delivered an Oration, at Frankfort, in Kentucky, from which the following is an extract:

"As a DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN, breathing the pure atmosphere of freedom, I will not be restrained by the spirit of party from paying my tribute of veneration to the genius and services of the departed HAMILTON.——He may have had his foibles, for like the rest of us he was endowed with the attributes of humanity, and was therefore liable to error. I view him only as figuring in the sphere of a soldier and statesman—I have seen him in the war of the revolution the companion of your Washington, braving every danger and encountering every vicissitude for the honor and the interest of the service. I have beheld him in the "Federalist," associated with the virtuous Madison, the expounder of the principles of your constitution, and pourtraying in the language of inspiration, the necessity of union among the states."

LOSS TO LITERATURE.

The London papers mention the entire loss, on the German Coast, of the Abeona, Capt. Moison, soon after leaving Hamburg for Boston. It is much feared that a large part of the new Library, purchased for Mr. Jefferson in Paris and Germany, were shipped on board this vessel, as also many invaluable Litterary Works, selected in France and Germany by Professor Everett, for the Cambridge University.

Supposed bombardment of Algiers

Capt. Evans, of the ship Ann Maria, arrived at this port last evening, in 55 days from Leghorn, informs, that on the 15th and 16th of August, he heard a heavy cannonading in the direction of Algiers, & supposed it to be lord Exmouths fleet bombarding that city.

Buffalo, Oct. 1.

We are happy to inform those persons who have suffered by the loss of property, by the enemy, during the late war, in this vicinity, that the Hon. Richard Bland Lee, the commissioner appointed by government, has decided favorably for the claimants generally; and but in several instances payment has actually been ordered.

Persons having just claims, coming under the law published in this paper in July last, will make out their accounts against government and send them per mail to the commissioner, who will issue commissions to some persons in this quarter, so that proof of their several claims may be made out and established.

For several successive nights, the land has been covered with heavy frost. About half of the Indian Corn, is probably destroyed. Beans and most other kinds of vegetables, affected by frost, are swept down. In the general scarcity of hay, corn stocks, if well cured, afford a good substitute; and, when affected by frost, it is believed to be the only way to preserve the fodder to cut the corn by the ground, and cure it in small shocks.

Canandaigua, Oct. 1.

The Corn in this quarter of the state, we are sorry to say is generally injured, and much of it destroyed by the late severe frosts. The favorable weather, for some weeks had induced a hope that the latter harvest would be considerable, if not abundant, notwithstanding the backwardness of the season; but the early frosts have cut it off.

THE DEVIL FISHING.

"All the world's a"——fish-pond!

SHAKESPEARE CORRECTED.

What luck, old Clovenfoot, to-day?
Said I, one foggy morning,
As he threw out his line for prey,
Poor mortal folks suborning.

"Not much," quoth he, "but what I have,
Beyond dispute, is fair gain;
With notes to shave, I've caught a knave,
A miser with a bargain.

To catch a needy beau, I took
A draggle-tail'd surtout—*
A would be belle found on my hook
A tempting full-dress suit.

I caught a Congressman, by dint
Of double compensation;
A Lawyer, on promotion bent,
By timely nomination.

These lawyers are, though oft you wish
(No thanks for't) Satan had 'em,
The most unprofitable fish
Of all the sons of Adam.

I caught a Surgeon with a high-fed subject for dissect on;
An office-hunter with a lie,
Well seasoned for election."

"What fish bite sharpest, Pug?" says I
"Why, as to that," quoth he,
"I find not many very shy,
Of high or low degree.

Your toper bites well at a cork,
When there's a bottle to it:
Your Jew will even bite at pork,
If he smell money thro' it.

Your old man likes a parchment when
By mortgage some one's bitten;
Your youngster likes a fresher skin,
Where yet there's nothing written!

Some shy ones play about the line,
Till prudence waxes feeble,
And these at last are often mine,
Who only meant to nibble!

There's few indeed of small or great,
(Or I am much mi-taken,)
But may, by some peculiar bait,
Be tempted, and then taken.

But there is one of all the rest,
Who most employs my cook—
The IDLER pleases me the best,
He bites the NAKED HOOK!"

The quarters appeared to have been lately caulked, and she appeared not to have been long in that state. Left, ship S. Carolina, Easterby, to sail for this port in a few days; ship Sybil, Turner, and British brig Emperor Alexander, Watt, both arrived from this port about the 10th August; the Sybil was leaky. Captain Cooper made his run to within 15 miles of Charleston Light in 44 days, when he took the late gale, and was blown to the southward of St. Mary's. On Saturday last, to the southward of Tybee, saw a ship resembling the Hugh Crawford, but the weather being very thick, could not be certain.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to cary off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
